Greetings

Dear participants,

on behalf of the Organizing Committee we would like to welcome each and every one of you very warmly to Innsbruck. We are delighted to have so many people from various parts of the globe in our city to participate in the 5th edition of the Winter ELSA Law School on Sports Law. It is an honour that there were so many people interested in our Law School. Especially this year we had lots of applications. At this point we would like to thank you for participating in this year's Winter ELSA Law School. We are aware of the fact that for many of you it was a long distance to travel in order to be here today – so thank you for coming to Innsbruck.

As you might have imagined, we didn't choose the topic of “our” Law School by chance. In fact, it was chosen due to the fact that Innsbruck and its surroundings are well-known places that enable you to do lots of sports in winter as well as in summer. Located in the middle of the Alps, Innsbruck is also referred to as the “Heart of the Alps”. The Winter Olympic Games took place in this city twice: in 1964 and in 1976. All these aspects and others make Innsbruck the perfect venue for a Law School on Sports Law.

Over the past few years ELSA Innsbruck has gained lots of experience when it comes to planning this event. All these achievements cannot be reached alone. In fact, it is the hard work of many people that made all this possible. That is why we would like to wholeheartedly thank our steady cooperation partner, the Faculty of Law at the University of Innsbruck for offering their facilities where the lectures are held. We would also like to express our gratitude to all the top-class speakers from all over Austria who hold lectures on Sports Law this week. All of them are esteemed experts in Sports Law and/or related areas and we highly appreciate their effort of sharing their knowledge with us and giving us an insight view of their expertise.

Dear participants, we look forward to having a great and interesting week together with you. We are sure that it will be a truly memorable event for us and we hope that your visit to Innsbruck will equally be a memorable experience for you. Once again, we would like express our thanks and our best wishes for this week.
